

A painting by Keta is full of life, color and people. She uses simplified forms and patterns to project everyday scenes whether local or scenes from her many travels. Clean colors and crisp details give her oil paintings a fresh vibrant quality.

She was born and raised in California graduating from the University of California at Santa Barbara. It wasn't until she lived in St. Thomas, U.S. Virgin Islands that she started painting. Her colorful scenes were an immediate success with tourists and locals alike. An artist's career was launched.

She has exhibited her work in St. Thomas, Barbados and Atlanta but now, just on St. Simons Island, her home for the past 23 years.

As a charter member of the Georgia Coastal Artists she participates in their three shows.

Keta's original oils may be viewed at Rarebbits and Pieces in Redfern Village, St. Simons Island, Georgia 31522.
