Artist's Statement

I come from a family of story tellers and I see my art as a continuation of this tradition. It is my hope that people will see their own narrative in my paintings.

I majored in Fine Art at Maryville and Washington Universities in St. Louis and have been a working artist since 1978.

I have studied extensively with nationally known artists: Kent Addison, Bill Cohn, Rodney Winfield and Joe Perrin.

My Work has been exhibited in St Louis, Missouri, Naples, Florida, Atlanta, Georgia, Winona, Minnesota, Santa Fe, New Mexico, and Majorka, Spain.

I have lived in Europe and my travels in Central America, China, Tibet, Spain and the American West have also influenced the evolution of my vision.

A trip to the home of Claude Monet was a turning point in my love affair with color.

My home and Studio are now in St, Simons Island, Ga.
