Art in various mediums has been part of B.J. Goddard's life for many years. Early in her career B.J. experimented with fiber art in the form of macramé and needlework. It wasn't until she began traveling to exotic locations that photography captured her imagination. The bright colors and sharp contrasts of the Caribbean & South Pacific, that were so abundant, caught her eye. The magnificent and graceful animals of Africa and Australia inspired her creativity. The uniqueness of the people she saw beckoned to be photographed and recorded. A long time resident of Southern California and avid traveler, B.J. recently relocated to Southeast Georgia, where she continues to find new and exciting sights awaiting to be captured. Her work now includes "artography", digitally enhanced photographs. You can see her new collection of "New England Waterfront", "Catalina Classics" and "Newport Locals" for sale at Peter J Gallery in Newport Beach, CA
