Barbara Moore is a native Georgian and a resident of Waycross, Georgia since 1960.

She received her artist training at the Atlanta Art Institute and with Bill Hendrix, noted St. Simons Artist and teacher. Her interest in watercolor intensified through professional workshops given by Mildred Zornes, Burt Silverman, Alex powers, Don Andrews, Christopher Schink and Frank Webb.

One of her primary art interests has been teaching children's art classes privately and in the public schools.

Barbara is a member of the Georgia Coastal artists, Glynn Art association, Jekyll Island Art Association, The Arnette Turner Howell Center for the Arts and the Okefenokee Heritage Center.

Her watercolors and drawings have received awards in local and national exhibitions.
