

Debbie Overton is a mixed media artist with a love for vintage inspired collage and assemblage. One-of-a-kind works of art are created using bits and pieces of antique and vintage findings from her collection of treasures that are worn torn and aged, as well as many layers of paints glazes and other mediums. Each piece is a glimpse into someone's past and has many hidden stories to tell.

As a member of the Jekyll Island Arts Association she recently participated in their Arts Festival where she placed in the Advance Mixed Media Collage category. An active member of the Okefenokee Heritage Center she has been featured as an artist of the month in 2007 and has participated in several exhibits at the center.

She was a contributing featured artist in Altered! Art Projects, a TweetyJill Publication art book released in 2007. Her art has been featured in print publications such as Somerset Gallery, Somerset Magazine, ARTitude and Collage Cats Zine, as well as several online interviews. Prior to moving to Georgia she exhibited in Southeast Arkansas and taught Mixed Media Collage workshops.

In 2005, she founded an online art group, Mixed Media Collage Artists (MMCA) where she helps to mentor emerging artists. This year she has taken MMCA to another level by opening an online Marketplace and blog.

Her artwork can be found in shops and private collections from the west to the east coasts and she also does custom collage work.

Debbie was born and raised in the cotton belt of Arkansas, and now she, her husband and 2 of their 3 college enrolled children have called Southeast Coastal Georgia their home since the summer of 2006.
