Lynn St. Clair shares her love of light, vivacious color and composition in capturing the fantasy of the world around us in watercolor and oil.

She has designed greeting cards and illustrated a number of publications.

St. Clair received her BFA from Syracuse University and has studied independently with

Pierre Daura, Marion Brown, Don Stone,

Paul Scott and Zygmund Jankowski.

She is a Copley Artist member of the Copley Society of Boston, a Distinguished

Artist member of the Concord Art Association, an artist member of the

Cambridge, Marblehead, North Shore, Springfield Academic Artists, and the Monotype Guild of New England.

Her work is included in numerous private collections, as well as the Bank of Boston and Beverly Hospital, and has been in exhibits from New England to California.

CURRENT CLASSES AVAILABLE

Saturday morning water color classes are currently being offered at the Lord of Life Lutheran Church, 2801 Frederica Road, St. Simons, 9:30am 'til noon.

Instruction is given in the use of color to express the individual's vision of objects, scenes memorable to each one or to express the student's interpretation of the still life at the class.

Each person "sees" differently and will express themselves in their own color patterns.

Camaraderie and individualized attention in painting are the focus.

Creating art can be a meditative activity that can help you relax and bring inner peace to your life.
