

Ruth Uhlig, art profile

After completing a career as a high school educator, I decided in my retirement to extend my interest in geometric designs used in teaching mathematics by studying art. I have studied with some noted artists in New York, Georgia and Ontario, Canada. My primary media are watercolor and pastels. I have been fortunate to have my work accepted in many juried shows including a national art show and have received many awards.

Landscapes, water scenes, architecture, and flowers are among the types of paintings that I enjoy doing. This reflects my interest in gardening, antiques and historic restoration, boating, studying and appreciating the environment and animals, and beautification of the areas where I live in Northern New York and Coastal Georgia.
